NATIONAL GANDHI MUSEUM

This programme will run from Sunday 24th May to Sunday 31st May 2026, from 10:00 am to 2:00 pm. The orientation will take place on 24th May 2026. Museum will remain closed on Mondays and on Eid al-Adha (Bakri Eid). The students report at the National Gandhi Museum. They will work within the museum premises, closely supervised by an ITIHAAS Team leader, in groups, in pairs and individually. Students will present the Gallery Walk on the 31st, to which parents, family members, and friends are warmly invited.

In his autobiography, Gandhi states that, he was a mediocre student and barely got through the multiplication tables. He was shy and avoided company and literally ran back from school so that no one spoke to him. Mohandas had very poor handwriting and he did not like sports, specially gymnastics. He enjoyed long walks but no sports !

During this programme, participants learn the value of doing their own tasks, importance of healthy eating habits, and understand how the simple rules of discipline, punctuality, integrity and strategic thinking made Gandhi the great leader he became. They watch films, write reports and learn to help others.
